HANG ON HELEN. GENETIC ENGINEERING is in its infancy. There's a lot we don't know about it's long-term effects. Releasing genetically engineered organisms into our environment means forever.

The potential risks to New Zealand's economy are huge. We can still do the research in the lab, but we absolutely cannot afford to destroy our clean green image internationally. It doesn't matter who is 'right' on this issue – the risks outweigh the perceived benefits.

WE HAVE TOO MUCH TO LOSE.

We invite you to share the vision of a GE-Free New Zealand, with NZ's top musical talent. These artists have demonstrated their commitment to Maintaining the Moratorium by donating a song to the Hang on Helen CD. Please fill in your details below to receive your free CD (available from late October – limited to 5000 copies).

Ecostore has spent the last ten years marketing plant-based products for safer body, home and garden care – with absolutely no GE ingredients. The range is now successfully selling through selected national supermarkets and health stores. For your interest, we'll also include our latest catalogue with the CD.
